Helping Water Users by providing Measurement, Automation, Remote Control, and Data Management

HydroLogik specializes in water measurement, online access to sites and data, and automation of water infrastructure. We have expertise in all aspects of surface water and groundwater measurement, data collection, automation, and telemetry.

It is more critical than ever for water users to have timely, accurate information and online access to sites. HydroLogik's goal is to partner with water users to provide turn-key equipment, installation, and services for measurement, automation, real-time online access and data hosting/brokering services.
